HINTS FOR THE MONTH.

Every farmer should be able, if not already so, to answer the following questions in the affirm-

Is your stove and other wood, for use next summer, all cut and piled up for seasoning? And have you plenty of wood seasoning for next winter's use? Are your chips all collected and secured for fuel? Are your tools, for the approaching campaign in farming, all in first rate order?—your plows with good points, beams sound, handles firm?—your rakes and have your tools. rakes and harrows with teeth, your hoes and forks with handles?-your harness in good repair, and well oiled?

Are your cellars kept clean and pure ?-you roots in them in good sound condition—your apples kept assorted, the decayed from the sound? Are the water furrows in your wheat fields kept open and deep, so that you may not loose bushels of wheat by the want of as many minutes work? Are your grafts cut-the best kinds chosen your grafting plasters made?

Is the additional attention given to cattle and

Have you procured the plaster you intended to sow, so as to have it on the grass early, that it may receive the full benefit?

Are your farm and garden seeds all procured? Do you understand the best way to make and save manure—that steam engine of farming operations—and if not have you endeavored by read-

TRIMMING ORCHARDS.

This is a very necessary and important operation. Large apples of the same sort are better than small ones, not only on account of the size, but the flavor is more perfectly developed,-especially when rule is, the higher the color, the higher the flavor, of that particular kind. Now when the branches become crowded and proportionately stunted, we have no right to expect fine fruit; and the only remedy is judicious pruning.

Both seasons are favorable, but the sooner it is done the better. If any farmer from indulging in theory shoud prefer the latter period, let him first considit should appear clearly that he will have nothing to interrupt him when summor comes, well and good let him defer it till that time. If on the contrary, should his corn-field, or potatoes, mending roads, or Bk. Circleville(1848) 75 dis should his corn-field, or potatoes, mending roads, or any other service, be likely to interfere,—let him make up his mind at once, to do it now before the sap begins to flow, if possible: and remember that a coat of paint over the stumps of the larger limbs when amputated, is worth more than all the theory that has been invented.

Now a few words in regard to the manner. Cut the under side of large limbs first, to prevent them from splitting down; and in cutting off all limbs, whether large or small, be careful to have as little naked wood as possible—leaving it very smooth, neither jagged nor split, nor haggled. For this purpose, the saw is the proper instrument on most of the large limbs; though a broad chisel on the end of a pole, and even the axe in dexterous hands may dexterous hands touch it. Most of the trimming in our orchards, is miserably done.

A WORD TO FARMERS UPON DEEP TILLAGE.—The most enlightened American agriculturalists of the present day, as well as European, regard deep tilage as the basis of all good culture. If, in farming it be so-and no man denies it-it is no less so in gardening. No man should for a moment think of planting a garden, or an archard; until thoroughly trenched or sub-soiled plowed. In this country during the growing season, we have a powerful sun, and frequent droughts, causing plants which grow on thin surface soil, with hardpan beneath it unmov-ed, to flag and actually shrivel up, as a thirsty pot plant would. Dr. Lee states the reason clearly and forcibly. "As a tight jug will prevent the water running in and out, so a compact impervious subsoil will prevent the ascent of the moisture in dry weather to supply the roots of the plants with their indispensable water. The experience of every cultivator will teach him this." How many thousands of young trees are lost, in this country, by being planted in a small hole, on the surface of an imper vious hard pan. They may start and grow during the showery weather of spring; but when two or three weeks of parching hot weather comes along in June, the young and feeble roots can find no food, the leaves turn yellow and the trees die. We have seen orchards, planted on land sub-soil plowed to the depth of eighteen inches, and well manured, where in three years trees attained the size of those ten years set in the ordinary way.

A NEW ENGLAND PRIZE COW:-WHAT DOES IT MEAN ?- The first prize at the Essex cattle show, at Lynn, last year was awarded to Abner Newhall —his statement was that from December 6, 1846 to 28th September, 1847, she gave 3840½ quarts of surrounding physicians and the public, by the cheapness milk, weighing 2601½ pounds; and as to keep durant public, by the cheapness and purity of his drugs. He can warrant that if once the control of the contro ing the winter, in addition to hay, he fed her with tested they will need no further recommendation. His establishment consists of carrots to the amount of 25 bushels, and gave her also "four bags of shorts"-during summer she had nothing but grass, and rather short feed.

But it is to be remembered that the English green sward grass, such as you see in the fields of New riety of England, is of all grasses perhaps the most nutri-

To KILL LICE ON CATTLE.-Fed them a quantity of sulphur in small doses at a time, mixed with cut roots, hay, salt or any thing else. The sulphur passes to the surface and repels the lice.

To MAKE CALVES EAT ROOTS .- Pound the roots fine, mix with them cut hay, bran, or any thing they will eat, and in two or three days they will be come fond of the roots.

SOAKING SEEDS.—Nearly all kinds of seeds will country, both acute and chronic, female complaints in their various characters, diseases of children &c., he vegetate sooner and more freely, if well soaked before sowing; particularly if they be of a hard nature, or the weather at all dry.

It is upon the principle of insensible perspiration, asex hibited in this cut, that the human body delivers itself of impurities and disease. "The blood being the life of the flesh" according to the scriptures, it must be kept pure to insure health. This it does by its own heat and action through the system, elaborating all impurity, and casting off all its worn out particles, which are carried out of the system, through the pores of the skin. When, however, the skin becomes locked up from sudden changes of weather, or any undue application of cold, all the humors, and virulent particles of the blood are retained with, in, and sickness and death must follow. All the long catalogue of diseases are the result. We have under such circumstances, discovered a remedy that will open the pores and assist the body to cast off any offending humor. It is impurities and disease. "The blood being the life of the flesh" according to the scriptures, it must be kept pure to insure health. ards, of Cincinnati, a well known practitioner of more than twenty years standing:

To all whom it may concern, I make the following statement: Conscious that it may appear unprofessional, it is only from a perfect conviction and thorough knowledge of the essential benefit and scientific origin of the preparation spoken of, that I feel constrained from a sense of duty to comply with the request of the proprietor.

I am a most inveterate opposer of quacks and quack medicines in any form, and most fully coincide with the clauses in the code of ethics lately adopted by the medical convention of Ohio, relating particularly to that subical convention of Ohio, relating particularly to that sub-ject; it may therefore be inferred that it is only from personal experiment with the preparation, and a positive as-surance of its beneficial results, that induces me to recom-

Astronomy of Mrs. Benjamin Smith, living on the north side of Ann street, one square north of the Cinolent cough, which settled upon her lungs, and reduced her so low that her physician could do no more for her. She exhibited precisely the same symptoms as my daughter did before her death, she having died with the same disease, and all our friends were convinced she would live but a short time longer. I was at this time recommended to try r. Rodgers' celebrated Syrup of Liver-wort and Tar. With little or no hope, I procured a bot-tle of the agent in this city, and upon returning I found my wife absolutely strangling with her cough. I com-menced giving her large doses—a teaspoonful every hou-for forty-eight hours, which raised her as by a miracler I have since administered it in small doses, which has brought her to the use of her fourth bottle, and she is now doing her house, work as usual. I have not the slightest doing her house-work as usual. I have not the slightest doubt that she would have been in her grave but for this valuable medicine; and I return my sincere thanks to valuable medicine; and I return my sincere thanks to the eminent inventor of it, and do most urgently recommend all persons afflicted with any disease of the lungs to give it a trial BENJAMIN SMITH I certify that my husband's statement of my case above is strictly correct in every particular, and most cordially join him in grateful thanks for the benefit I have derived erom his valuale medicine.
